

CSELS Vision

A modern, resilient, and interconnected public health infrastructure that protects the health of every American community

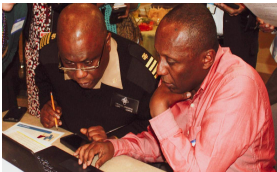

About CSELS

Who We Are

Data Modernization

Public Health
Infrastructure
Grant

Our Divisions and Office

Division of Health Informatics and Surveillance

Providing leadership
and expertise in data,
surveillance, and

Division of Laboratory Systems

Improving public health
through exemplary
laboratory science

Division of Scientific Education and Professional Development

Building a workforce that protects the

Public Health Informatics Office

Delivering strategic informatics leadership
and advancing data
modernization

Flagship Programs

Epidemic Intelligence
Service (EIS)

MMWR

Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report (MMWR)

Globally-recognized fellowship program, renowned for its investigative and emergency response efforts and developing future public health leaders

The "Voice of CDC" and primary vehicle for scientific publication, public health information, and recommendations

Page last reviewed: October 12, 2021